Today's Rules...

Winter Rules: You may lift, clean and place your ball or any area cut to fairway height on your own hole. You must place your ball within one scorecard length of where your ball came to rest.

Winter Rules in Bunkers: You have the option to rake and DROP your ball. Your ball must come to rest within one scorecard length of the ball's original position. After two unsuccessful drops you must place your ball within one scorecard length of its original position.

Local Rules: Environmentally Sensitive areas - marked with red stakes with green tops. Under no circumstances can you enter or contact these areas to search or retrieve a ball. Treat as a penalty area and take 1 stroke penalty. Two club length drop from entry point, no closer to the hole, unless there is a forward drop zone. See Below. If your ball comes to rest near an environmentally sensitive area, but not in it, and your back swing or thru swing would contact the foliage in the ES area, you are allowed free relief not closer to the hole of one club length or enough to ensure you have a swing free of the ES area.

Forward Drop Zones: There are forward drop zones on 6 (tee & approach), 8 T, 13 T&A, and 16 T&A. If you hit into the penalty area on these shots you should proceed forward to the drop zone on the far side of the penalty area and drop your ball within 2 club lengths of the drop zone sign no closer to the hole than the sign with a 1 stroke penalty. Note: Heron Glen has a local rule that you can place your ball in the drop zone, however, the Golf Mission does not observe this local rule. Please drop from the knee in the drop zone area.

Heron Glen has a local rule that all unmarked, high growth areas within the golf course can be treated as Penalty Areas. Golf Mission does not observe this local rule. We will be playing the course as marked. If no stakes or lines are present, you must proceed under the lost ball or unplayable ball rules. We have confidence that the Heron Glen course is marked significantly better than Berkshire Valley was last week and this is consistent with how we played HG earlier this year. If you are unsure, please play two balls and seek a ruling after your round.
